Revision of sounds: U / UA / UI / UY / UYT

Lesson Two - Ideas Mapping

The class received a handout explaining Ideas Mapping . This is excellent way to take notes at meetings. At first, you won't understand too much of the meeting, but using this method every week will help you increase your comprehension significantly. It is all too easy to let our minds drift at meetings when we understand very little of what is said. This method is both an attention keeping and comprehension exercise!

Lesson Three - 300/800 words - Kitchen words

Review of last week's lesson and homework. This week's lesson was on kitchen items we commonly use.

The class learnt

Cup - Ly.

Plate - Đĩa

Bowl - Tô

Rice bowl - Chén

Spoon - muỗng

Knife - con dao

Chop sticks - đôi đũa

Fork - nĩa

They then played a game of 'Morse Code'. Each pair of students took one bowl, one cup, one fork, one knife, one spoon, one rice bowl and a pair of chopsticks. Anthony had a combination of four items written down which was his 'code'. The students had to pick four items, put them in an order, take them to Anthony and ask in Vietnamese if they had the code correct. Anthony would tell the students if they had an item incorrect, correct or correct but in the wrong order.

Lesson Four - Tones and Pronunciation - Page 28

New sound: ㄆ - ㄆ (Two tones)

New sound: ㄋ - ㄋ

Congratulations - you've finished learning all the sounds in Vietnamese
